Sister Josephine "Josie" Dichoso, Founder of Saint Martin de Porres Ministry, visits Nation's Capital

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 2 (PinoyGlobal) - Sister Josephine Garcia Dichoso, founder and head of the global Saint Martin de Porres Ministry based in Los Angeles and New York, visited the Washington Metropolitan area for two weeks where she spent time sharing her gift of healing to the sick and afflicted in various parishes of catholic churches.

Sister Josie, as she is fondly called by the devotees, visited the parish of Our Lady of Victory (OLV) Catholic Church last Sunday, June 29, where she conducted healing sessions with parishioners and visitors from other churches in the area. The statue of Saint Martin de Porres is enshrined at OLV Church where a weekly novena is held in his honor every Thursday at 5:30 p.m. since 1992.

Immediately after the healing services, a dinner was hosted by Aida and Nonoy Mendoza at their residence in Rosslyn, Virginia. The Mendozas have been devotees of Saint Martin de Porres since 1992 when they started the weekly novena at OLV.
